MONTREAL, April 17—Fire, which started shortly after midnight, this morning, threatened St. Bridget's school and also menaced the church of the same name adjacent, and the residence of the Christian Brothers nearby.

"Tiny" Welsh, of Calgary, Takes Pony Over Hurdles at 5 Feet 6 Inches.

IS CONGRATULATED BY LT. GOVERNOR BRETT

Fancy Dress Parade is Big Feature of Last Night's Performance.

"Tiny" Welsh, the eight year old boy wonder from Calgary, thrilled hundreds of spectators at the horse show last night when he successfully rode Calgary Lass over the hurdles at five feet six inches, a feat unparalleled by anyone his age in the history of the province. Amid wild cheering the hero of the day was congratulated by Lieut. Governor R. G. Brett, and Premier Herbert Greenfield, and then in an off hand manner he calmly proceeded to wander back to his mount to see how it was faring.

The youngster first took his mount over the jumps at 4 feet 8 inches and then by gradual stages worked up until he had broken previous records. He rode like a master, handling his mount with great ease, and there was a comradeship between horse and rider indicating long association.

Welsh-Girven Event

The Welsh-Girven event between the mounted cub jumper Malcolm Welsh and Bay Eagle arranged for earlier in the week was staged, but both horses failing to negotiate the jumps higher than 6 feet 2 1-4 inches and was declared a tie. These two horses will compete for the $400 purse on Saturday night, and Bay Eagle will then be matched with Barra Lad for $1,000 stakes, the Calgary horse conceding three inches.

The program as a whole was one of the best staged thus far. There were several real headliners during the day, a fancy dress parade by the Edmonton Saddle Club, as well as other riding events. Last night's riding competition, high steppers and saddle classes.

The audience was considerably larger than on any previous night, and interest in the events was unflagging. Favorable comment was heard on every side in connection with the various events by horsemen and horse-women. Hundreds are realizing that at this time today the world are performing at the arena, and it was quite apparent from the ovation accorded the jumpers last night that Edmontonians are beginning to fully appreciate of this fact.

Big Attraction

The Calgary lad with his chestnut pony was undoubtedly the big attraction of the evening performance. Few thought that one so young would ever attempt what required such courage, and as his mount raced for the hurdles the audience held its breath, and each time as the hurdles were successfully negotiated there was loud cheering that could be heard for several blocks beyond the vast building. It was an event of which never before seen in the city by anyone. There have been some splendid jumpers, but never such splendid work by such a youthful rider, who endeared himself to the hundreds that watched him perform.

The special fancy dress parade was an event of high order. The audience in this event judged the winners by ballot, the successful competitors being Miss Mollie McDonald, popular local horse-woman, who was attired as an Indian Maiden and rode a jet black horse; and the gents prize was awarded to Stanley Cole, the youngster who as "Sutabine" mounted on the proverbial "bicycle" was awarded the first class of his own. The costumes of the riders for the most part were really splendid, and was claimed by many to be the best ever seen locally. There were over fifty entries, both ladies and gentlemen, and almost every well known character of fiction from "Huck Finn" to "Dundee Girl" was represented. Ever. Sambo on a mullish looking nag which he rode backwards was also among the some of the antics of the competitors were highly interesting. There were stately hunters and little ponies that were not much larger than a large wolf hound, and every competitor displayed some feature that placed them all decidedly above the average.

Feeding Competition

The calf feeding competition brought out nine good entries of dorly calves, the class was handled by Archie Carlyle of South Edmonton who had a splendid Holstein heifer that showed splendid dairy qualities. Hazel Peterson of Edburg with another Holstein stood in second place, and Albert Bevington of Winterburn with a calf of the same breed was third. Lorne Peterson of Edburg also with a Holstein stood fourth. George Butcher of

NO AGREEMENT YET REACHED

Heads of Railways, After Consultation, Have Nothing to Give Out.

ASKED TO CONFER

There is Very Sure to be Further Talk on Subject in House.

OTTAWA, April 16.—Agreement between the heads of the two Canadian railways on a route for the proposed Peace River railway has apparently not been reached. After a two hour consultation today with Sir Henry Thronton, K. W. Heath and Grant Hall, Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways, stated that he had nothing definite to give out.

Three months ago the two railways were asked to get together with each other and see if some agreement could not be reached as to ways and means of constructing the proposed railroad out of the Peace District. When it was announced that the railway executives were to meet in the matter of railways today hope was revived among the interested parties that some agreement had been reached and that a sound proposal would be submitted so that work on the road might be proceeded with. Tonight, considerable disappointment is being expressed, but enthusiasts are beginning to fear that nothing definite will be arrived at in time for a parliamentary vote or money to permit of construction being made this year.

There is pretty sure to be further talk in the house on the subject.

Of the party, 158 remained in Manitoba and the others were distributed: 24 to British Columbia, 64 to Alberta and 28 to Saskatchewan.

WON'T WASTE TIME IN EXAMINATION

TORONTO April 16—Neither time nor money will be wasted in learning exactly how the western farmers stand in relation to the Empire, coun bodo, contributory list.

The number of those taking part in the inquiry will be limited, and going and coming, the official party from Toronto will occupy five days at the most.

Of murderers charged with double liability, repudiation is filed on the part of a substantial number. For example, murder-accumulation in selling stock is urged, and evidence from this angle will be taken in Winnipeg on Monday next; at Dauphin on Tuesday, and at Moose Jaw on Thursday. Alleged contributories from the West will be examined and cross-examined at these three given centres.

The members of the Bulgarian cabinet, hundreds of leading political personalities and citizens and many military officers were assembled at the funeral of General Georghieff, who was assassinated in the streets of Sofia Tuesday night. In the course of the service a bomb, or bombs, exploded, causing widespread death and destruction, and partially wrecking the old building.

How many persons were killed is not known, but reports from the city already taken numerous bodies out of the ruins. None of the ministers were killed. Although several were wounded. It is expected martial law will be proclaimed.

BUDGET DEBATE SEES REVIVAL OF BIG BATTLE

George W. Kyle Defends Expenses of Parliamentary Delegates to Wembley

FIGHT IS CARRIED ACROSS THE FLOOR

Claims Trip of Hon. Hugh Guthrie Abroad in 1921 Cost $9,400.

OTTAWA, April 16—(Canadian Press)—With rippling laughter, the house witnessed a revival of an old-time political battle, George W. Kyle, chief Liberal whip, had the stand. Mr. Kyte was one of the great delegation of delegates to Wembley last year and, in defending the expenses of the trip from Conservative criticism, he carried the war across the floor. The total of $4,200 paid to the three commissioners to Wembley, Mr. Kyte exclaimed, was being paraded by Conservatives as the greatest scandal of the administration, yet, between 1912 and 1922, Mr. Kyte continued, enough members of the Conservative administration had crossed and re-crossed the Atlantic to give the effect of a shuttle passing through a loom.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie had gone abroad in 1921 and cost the country $9,400 in expenses.

"What was his business" came the query from Conservative benches.

"I don't care what his business was," Mr. Kyte warmly returned. "It could not eat up $9,400 properly on such a trip."

In 1920, Senator Blondin, as postmaster-general, went to a postal conference at Madrid accompanied by a special attache and a confidential officer. The expense account was $9,219 of which Senator Blondin blew in $1,800 on champagne. In comparison, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier went to the imperial conference his expense account was $2,986.

House Laughs

For about twenty minutes Mr. Kyte kept the whole house laughing with the story of G. B. Cockburn, a Toronto Conservative member who in 1892, was sent as delegate to the Chicago worlds fair. Mr. Cockburn's expenses for the trip totalled $425. For about a thousand dollar of the account, said Mr. Kyte, Mr. Cockburn did not account at all. Then, to roars of laughter, Mr. Kyte read the itemized accounts for the remainder, column after column of expenses. The total ranged from 60 cents to $1.00 a time, wines, liquors and extra meals, cab hire, laundry, vews stand and other tall tails.

Mr. Kyte added that while Mr. Guthrie had an expense account of $9,400 when he went to Europe in 1921, he stayed home the following year "and cost the country $4,000 less that year."

For the remainder of the day, debate on the budget followed its usual course, Liberals criticizing, Conservative, Yale, urged that steps should be taken to end the fruit combine in western Canada.

It was of no advantage either to producer or consumer, he urged, that British Columbia apples to fetch $2.50 a box, while in the prairies if the producer was only going to get 30 cents.

Afternoon Session

OTTAWA, April 16.—(Canadian Press)—Resuming the budget debate in the House of Commons this afternoon, J. H. Harris, Conservative, East York, stated that, in his opinion, the best thing that could happen to Canada was an immediate general election. After it was over, the new government should be empowered to proceed to revise the tariff. He would welcome a reduction in the number of members of the commons by half. He advised the government to "cut out expensive golf courses," eliminate the "army of Canadian National freight solicitors" in Great Britain and adopt a policy which would result in Canadian flour mills being manufactured in Canada.

W. Hammell, Liberal, Muskoka, advocated a separate department branch to develop the tourist traffic, or failing that a separate department, an information bureau and would work for better hotel accommodation and camping sites in Canada. There should be no lack of uniformity of laws affecting the tourists. The customs regulations should be made as elastic as possible in this regard.

In Erroneous

Grote Stirling, Conservative, Yale, remarked that some times the fruit grower was described as spiteful and looking for assistance; but this was erroneous. "The fruit grower has behind him a very great, a very great extent successfully with very considerable number of difficulties."

Twenty thousand people in Canada were dependent on the fruit industry in which from forty to fifty million dollars was invested.

Referring to the investigation inadvised the R-33 to try and make

FRENCH CABINET NOW COMPLETE

M. Painleve Succeeds Where Aristide Briand Fails—Notifies President.

IS MINISTER OF WAR

Joseph Caillaux Will Have a Guiding Hand Over the Finances of Country.

PARIS, April 17—After strenuous endeavor, M. Paul-Boncour succeeded his cabinet about midnight and sent notification to President Doumergue that he had succeeded in constituting a ministry, where Briand had failed.

M. Painleve himself takes the post of minister of war, as well as president of the Council, while M. Briand assumes the portfolio of foreign affairs and Joseph Caillaux, whose political career was thought to have ended when, in 1920, he was sent to a penitentiary and ordered expatriated, will have the guiding hand over France's finances. The only member of M. Herriot's cabinet who remains is the former finance minister, Anatole De Monzie, to whom is attributed in a measure the success of the Herriot administration. He becomes minister of public instruction. The cabinet is as follows:

The new cabinet was officially announced in a list as follows:

Premier and Minister of War—Paul Painleve.

Foreign Affairs—Aristide Briand.

Finance—Joseph Caillaux.

Justice and Vice-President of the Cabinet—Jules Guesde.

Public Instruction—Anatole De Monzie.

Interior—Senator A. Sarraumck.

Commerce—Charles Chaumet.

Merchant Marine—Senator Colonies—Andre Hesse.

Agriculture—Leon Durand.

Public Works—Pierre Laval.

Labor—Antoine Durafour.

Development—Georges Leygues.

Pensions—Louis Anterion.

Abolish Ministry.

It was decided to abolish the ministry of marine, the duties being distributing an under-secrethry attached to the ministry of finance. Paul Morel was appointed under-secretary. This change eliminated M. Deyris.

The cabinet was completed by the following under-secretaries:

War—Jean Ossola.

Merchant Marine—Charles Danielou.

Air—M. Laurent-Eynac.

Fine Arts—Yvon Delbos.

In order to lighten M. Painleve's task, a special under-secretaryship has been created, attached to the premier's office, which will be assumed by George Bonnet as soon as the necessary bill has been passed by parliament. He will succeed the minister-general at the war office and his present post Benazet being assigned to that post.

The ministerial crisis occupied the leading financial bankers throughout the day and night.

Briand's failure, although less spectacular than during the early days of the crisis, was the point around which the entire situation revolved. Upon his acceptance or refusal to enter the cabinet hinged M. Painleve's success or possible failure. One parliamentarian expressed it that if Briand accepted Painleve's cabinet before it is actually afloat.

Has Bald Head.

PARIS, April 16—Joseph Caillaux who has made a spectacular return to power of finance in the Painleve cabinet, can boast—but does not—of the baldest head in the world. One of a hundred newspapermen who interviewed him regarding the parliamentary situation, remarked.

"It is a situation such as will cause you many grey hairs."

"Maybe," answered the man, M. Caillaux retorted, with a slight touch of annoyance. "I would gladly exchange my head for yours, for a minister of finance for a head of hair like yours."

Mackenzie King are expected to come to Vancouver to attend the unveiling of the Kiwanis memorial in Stanley park on September 16, it was announced today at the weekly luncheon of the Vancouver Kiwanis Club. Straying Aircraft Found; Returning From Holland

Overwrought British Public Greatly Relieved at News of Report of Finding.

FIERCE GALE CARRIES R-33 ACROSS SEA

Big Dirigible is Torn Away From Moorings at Fulham Yesterday.

LONDON, April 16.—Relief came tonight to an overwrought British public which has been fearful throughout the day as to the fate of some score of officers and men who were borne away early this morning in the dirigible R-33, which was torn from its mooring mast at Fulham by a fierce gale and driven across the North Sea.

The relief came with a report which reached the air ministry that the airship had successfully ridden out the storm and was starting on her homeward trip to Pulham from Holland. The aircraft was making from five to ten knots an hour, the report said, and expected to reach her destination some time tomorrow morning.

As the wind, which during the day had averaged 75 miles an hour, had greatly moderated, it was hoped the R-33 would arrive over Pulham during the early hours of the morning and that she would be landed with the break of day. If for any reason she cannot be brought down at Pulham an attempt will be made to house her in her original hangar at Cardington.

The air ministry says the R-33 reported at 9:37 p.m. that she had passed the Dutch coast, the last ten miles south of Ymuiden and was making her way west-northwest toward England.

The big British dirigible early this morning was torn away from her mooring mast near Pulham and driven out over the North Sea by a fierce gale.

A Terrific Gale

The United Kingdom throughout last night and today was in the grip of a terrific gale, varying in velocity from 70 to 90 miles an hour. The storm caused a deal of damage on shore and made navigation in nearby waters dangerous.

The R-33, which had only recently been brought out for new experiments after four years of idleness was torn from her moorings and driven attached to the mooring mast waiting for favorable weather to repeat her successful cruise over the British isles and adjacent waters. She was filled with gas and had everything in readiness, including full supplies of fuel and food for a prolonged test.

The airship successfully rode out the gale during the night and early this morning it was believed that the worst was behind her. But shortly before daybreak the storm broke away, with a quantity of wreckage, including four gun turrets and machine guns which had been torn from their moorings and carried for miles by the gale.

The ship had rapidly drove the airship toward the North Sea. A day later reports reached the air ministry officials of the British air ministry and the public followed.

The belief that there was a wholly bewildering and rapid success over the storm and the safe passage of the ship toward the North Sea. A day later reports reached the air ministry officials of the British air ministry and the public followed.

Reliable Amsterdam despatches late today said the R-33 had sent a wireless message that she was flying and that she might be compelled to make a landing in Holland. The British air ministry had then Cologne, where she would have the aid of the German air force for her in landing. The air ministry also inquired of the Dutch government concerning possible facilities for landing in Holland. The Dutch government replied suggesting coming down at the airdrome at Texel or a landing at Soesterberg and ordering the latter. It was said ample military assistance would be available.

In fact, at this time, when the R-33 was near Ymuiden, Holland, the Dutch authorities mobilized all necessary forces for the purpose of

SHEPHERD PLEADS NOT GUILTY; HAGGARD FROM HIS STAY IN JAIL

CHICAGO, April 16—White and haggard from his month's stay in jail, William D. Shepherd today emphatically pleaded not guilty to the charge that he murdered William N. McClintock, big millionaire foster son, with typhoid germs.

Chief Justice Hopkins, of the criminal court, before whom Shepherd was arraigned, previously had over-ruled a motion of Attorney William Stewart to quash the indictment.

As soon as Shepherd's plea had been entered, First Assistant State's Attorney Gorman demanded that the trial start at once. Judge Hopkins ruled that the date was a matter for the trial judge to determine.

"The case will follow the regular call," he said, adding that if the prosecution and defence could agree on some particular judge the case would be assigned in accordance with their wishes.

Lonergan, prominent resident of Seattle, and other Americans are also backing the trial expedition.

According to reports it is to be a race of rival expeditions, each party backed by considerable finance. The Perry gain area to be penetrated is reported to be extremely rich in placer gold and platinum as well as copper, iron and lead. It is also said that confined in the area is an oil lake and visible coal seams; making the area's expanse one of the most potential natural wealth whose development would be capable of great outlay of capital and probably years to develop.

APPOINT COMMITTEE TO WELCOME SETTLERS

(By Bulletin Correspondent)

IRMA, April 14—At a special meeting of the Irma Board of Trade Wednesday afternoon a committee consisting of the president, Wm. Masson, Bryce Jones and H. W. Love was appointed to see that all new settlers were met, welcomed and advised in any manner that would enable them to become acquainted with their neighbors and requirements in the district. A number of prominent business men have signified their willingness to co-operate with the committee and help in every way possible to assist new comers in becoming established on their new homes. In this way the Board of Trade feels that they can be of a great benefit in settling many of the abandoned farms that increased benefit would be derived from the productive soil of the Irma district.

The first of several families expected in the Irma district to be sent to Canada by the Empire Settlement Board, arrived in Irma Tuesday night. Mr. R. W. Western, local supervisor for the Board, who are working in conjunction with the Empire Settlement Board, was in Irma to look after the locating of the two settlers. A number of Irma citizens were at the station to welcome the new arrivals. This family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Jackman and four children who are from Winchester, England. This family is being placed on the Rivers farm about eight miles southwest of Irma. Another family is expected Thursday or Friday night. This family will be placed on a farm north of Jarrow. Several more Empire settling families are expected at intervals during the summer.

Three immigrants from Switzerland arrived on the same train. These will be located among farmers in the district.

Another party consisting of 25 Swiss settlers are on their way to Irma. These are accompanied by Emil Wirth who has been spending the winter in his old home in Switzerland.

At the last meeting of the Albert Local U.F.A., Mr. A. A. Fischer was proposed as a delegate to the next convention of the local association. Delegates to the convention will be elected in May. Last year on account of the members of the pool not being fully informed as to the number of delegates to be appointed no representative was appointed from this district. We understand that the Medicine Hat and Irma is included will comprise practically the same district as was included in the Wainwright Constituency and all members of the pool will be furnished with a ballot on which they will have the privilege of stating who they wish to represent them at the next convention.

N. D. McMillan, of Bremner spent the holidays at his brother's farm in the Alma Mater district.

Mrs. C. Carfrae returned last Friday after spending the winter with friends in Pewaukee and Southern eastern states. Mrs. Carfrae expects to have her hospital open at any time, and will be pleased to see any of her friends.

Mrs. D. P. A. Mellon, spent Monday in Edmonton where she attended with her brother who was passing through the city on his way from the east to Vancouver.

Mr. N. Beattie, of Edmonton has been in Irma the past few days looking after arrangements for putting a crop on his place.

C. Foster, of the local bank staff returned Monday night after spending a few days in Calgary.

SAYS CANADIANS ARE INDIRECTLY CANNIBALS

TORONTO, April 16.—Cannibalism is the healthiest practice in the world, except from the point of view of the consuming victims, and Canadians lead the entire human race insofar as health is concerned, according to Dr. H. W. Hill, of Western University, addressing the Ontario Educational Association. The reason is because, they live actually on human protein, and protein is the essential element in food. Only protein lives in the body; fat and starch are merely carried around, but it is the protein that feels and thinks, and to accumulate the necessary supply of protein, or in other words to build up the body, animal protein is more valuable as plant or vegetable protein.

CITIZENS VISIT AT WAINWRIGHT

Oil Fields Are Inspected—Delegates Will Meet Spokane Investor.

Edmonton which has not yet recovered from the spring fever was seized yesterday by the oil fever. A delegation of oil men and citizens including the Mayor visited the oil wells at Wainwright yesterday. Last night, Ald. Werner left as delegate of the city Council, to accompany Mr. Mercer, promoter of an independent refinery for Edmonton, on a trip to Calgary where today they met a Spokane investor who already has a 2,000 barrel refinery in that western city and is investing $200,000 in Shelby.

By resolution of council last evening Alderman Werner, in the absence of Mayor Blatchford, is to be present as an earnest of Edmonton's interest in such a project and to show the city is behind the project with all possible co-operation.

Two years ago Mr. Mercer secured an option from the city on some land, 10 or 20 acres, for a refinery site. Yesterday when asked about the option, he said they could buy land in the open market here for less. He declared that there had been an effort by some private interests in the southern city to head off the financial and get him interested in an independent oil refinery there; hence the present delegation.

Among those at Wainwright on the inspection trip besides Mayor Blatchford, are several British Petroleum directors, Dr. Galbraith of Vancouver and H. W. Jones of Edmonton with Tom Sugars field superintendent. Dr. John Allan, professor of Geology at the University of Alberta and Professor E. Stanfield, E. T. Bishop and others from the city along with a party of Wainwright citizens.

TROUBLED CONSCIENCE CAUSES RESTITUTION

A troubled conscience was responsible for the sending of a letter by a former resident of the city, now in the U. S. A. to the city Treasurer. The street railway department to pay for two dollars worth of tickets used in 1913 which he knew at the time had been stolen from the city. The "enclosed postal order" being cashed and by the anxious individual, a letter to the address given brought the money to hand yesterday. It at last is in the coffers of the city.

Anderson against an order of Mr. Justice McCarthy, which gave the Hillcrest Building Co. possession of the premises occupied by Anderson as the Palais de Danse, Anderson was the winner. Struan Sutherland was counsel for the appellant and H. J. Mitnes, K.C., for the Hillcrest Building Co.

Judgment was rendered in the Bankruptcy court case involving the executors of William Humberstone and the trustee of the Humberstone estate and the matter of income and federal revenue taxes.

CITY FILE NO CLAIMS AGAINST C.P.R

City Council Will Take no Action if Company Constructs Spur Line.

LETTER IS READ

City is Not Particularly Interested in Which Organization Builds.

Council last night went on record that no opposition or damage claims will be entered by the city owned lots along the lane at 111½ Street would be filed against the C.P.R. should they get an order from the railway commissioners authorizing them to build. Ald. Knott remarked that of course the city was behind the project with the Canadian National as the proposed spur would enhance the property values in warehousing property. Superintendent Fox, of the C.P.R., who was present, said there would be costs to the city.

A letter was before council from the C.N.R. to the effect that it was ready to build the spur from their lines and desired the right to do so under an old agreement of 1906 with the city. The city being not specially interested as to which line builds the siding, it seems likely that the two companies will argue the matter out before the railway commission.

Acting-Mayor James East was in the chair and there were present, Aldermen Clarke, Douglas, Knott, Lodder, Mitchell and Werner.

S. H. Carter, of the G.W.V., was present with a representative of the Vancouver concern that plans to sell advertising street flags to city merchants, asking that council waive their demand for a bond to protect the city from damage in case of accident from such poles in the sidewalks. It was not the matter of the ten dollar fee, but the principle the company objected to since the proposal would probably be followed by demands in all cities entered. Ald. Werner gave notice of motion to waive the bond.

Reports Against

In response to Ald. Clarke' enquiry about the advisability of continuing Architect John Martland in the city engineer's department instead of transferring him to the building inspectors, the commissioners reported against the transfer, as all city departments got the architect's assistance when needed. The item of $2,400 plans worth $15,000 has been prepared last year, said Ald. Knott, for which no charge is made.

J. McCool was present to negotiate with council regarding the misunderstanding that had arisen over the street car advertising contract. The contract was opened up, but was adjourned to come up before a more representative meeting. The contract drawn up by the commissioners in accord with the interpretation of council minutes is not yet signed.

Mr. McCool declared that his offer was $6,500 guarantee of "business" and 50-50 on an excess, with, of course, 20 per cent of the $6,500. Ald East said he was quite clear that was as he too understood it last fall.

There had been two offers before council: $4,500 for inside advertising and $2,000 for outside, or $6,500 net to the city in cash. Why in the face of that, such an offer as Mr. McCool says he made would be considered, Alderman Douglas could not say. He was positive he understood the offer of Mr. McCool to be $6,500 net to the city and no more could be secured.

Mr. Lodder was also present to watch developments. Mr. McCool said the only difference with regard to the contract was the interpretation of the 20 per cent clause, that he had no chance of any misunderstanding about the sale of the advertising, and that he was still willing to carry out the contract, but no one would be fool enough to guarantee $6,500 business net to the city.

NURSES WILL BE PLACED ON NEW SALARY BASIS NEXT FALL

School Board Medical Department Arrives at Decision at Last Night's Meeting—Service of Nurses Will be Extended to Twelve Months.

Nurses in the employ of the School Board Medical Department will be placed on a new salary schedule to come into operation on September 1, according to a decision made at last night's meeting. The new schedule, suggested by Trustee S. A. G. Barnes and adopted, lays down a commencing salary of $1,000 a year, rising by annual increments of $75 over a period of eight years until a maximum of $1,600 is attained. The service of nurses will also be extended to twelve months, with allowance made for one month's holiday, instead of two months as at present. This latter alteration was brought forward in a motion by Trustee Dr. T. J. Johnston.

As a result of the Board's decision, the six nurses involved, who are at present receiving a salary of $1,600 a year, will be notified that their engagement will cease on August 31, but that they will be eligible for re-appointment under the new schedule on September 1, without loss of status. In reply to a question by Dr. D. J. Dunn, the Board's medical officer, it was stated that the nurses would suffer a reduction in salary as the result of the revision of the schedule.

Nurses Work Hard

Speaking in support of the motion, Dr. Dunn was of the opinion that the nurses worked harder than the teachers, and that only one city in Canada was paying its nurses less than Edmonton. In all other cities, he said, nurses in the employ of school boards were receiving larger salaries and were only employed for ten months in the year.

With two months' holiday during school vacations, Trustee J. W. Adair thought that their duties were light and that they were in much better positions than ordinary nurses engaged in the city. He also expressed some doubt as to the value of this department, believing that there was some exaggeration as to the weaknesses of school children. He thought that if the department could be given two months holiday in the summer time, it showed that medical supervision was not absolutely necessary during the other ten months.

Trustee F. S. Macpherson and R. V. Bellamy, the chairman, pointed out that great trouble occurred in the summer time amongst young children under school age when it was found necessary by the City Health Department and the Welfare Board to employ outside nursing assistance. In view of the fact that the school board's staff was not working, Mr. Bellamy believed that the Board's nurses could be employed by the city during this period, and pressed for an arrangement being made to this effect.

Referred to Committee

A report from George Latham, school engineer, on the matter of janitors' salaries, was referred to the special committee comprising the building and grounds committee and Trustees Adair and Dr. Johnston, and the subject will be brought before the board with recommendations at the next meeting.

The advisability of purchasing Lethbridge Northern Irrigation District bonds, to the value of $12,000, as suggested by the sinking fund trustees, was questioned by Trustee Barnes and other members of the board, but as the yield was guaranteed by the provincial government it was eventually decided to adopt the recommendation. It was also thought that the time was fast approaching when it would be difficult to get five per cent. interest on first class securities, as required by existing sinking fund stipulations.

It was reported that valuation of the Technical school property had been obtained and tenders for its purchase will be called for at an early date.

The contract for the completion of the Campbell school, at the King Edward school and lining the ventilating chamber at McKay Avenue school, was awarded to Messrs. Mc-Kay and Johnsson, whose tender price for the work was $840, the lowest tender received. The highest tender of the eight received was $1,531.40.

Standard examinations for all pupils in grades three to seven, inclusive, in arithmetic, reading, writing, languages and spelling, as suggested by Mr. Barnes, were agreed to, and the question of a further bi-annual test in arithmetic for all pupils, once prior to the Easter vacation and the other prior to the Christmas examination, was referred to committee. Mr. Barnes thought that this latter test would serve the purpose of providing the board with indications of weaknesses early in the year. It is probable that the tests will be conducted in other subjects besides arithmetic.

JUVENILE BOY RIDER MAKES HIT AT SHOW

Hittern Lake with a good Ayrshire took fifth place. The sixth went to a Shorthorn exhibited by Muril Brothers, Mirror Lake, seventh to Cyril Butchard of Bittern Lake with a Shorthorn, while Ellis Graham of Mirror Lake came in for eighth place with a Shorthorn.

Sir James, the famous carriage horse owned by John Black, Jr., of Edmonton carried off the honors in the high stepper class easily, to all comers over three years of age. This is a handsome bone gray and a combination of fancy stepping such as is rarely seen in any show ring, and was also a splendidly conformed horse and fine fettle left no doubt, in the minds of the judges as to whom the first prize should go. Lady Matthias, the eighteen year old mare shown by Lieutenant Governor R. G. Brett, stood second. This grand old mare of eighteen years has won seventh to Cyril Butchard of Bittern Lake with a Shorthorn, while Ellis Graham of Mirror Lake came in for eighth place with a Shorthorn.

Sir James, the famous carriage horse owned by John Black, Jr., of Edmonton carried off the honors in the high stepper class easily, to all comers over three years of age. This is a handsome bone gray and a combination of fancy stepping such as is rarely seen in any show ring, and was also a splendidly conformed horse and fine fettle left no doubt, in the minds of the judges as to whom the first prize should go. Lady Matthias, the eighteen year old mare shown by Lieutenant Governor R. G. Brett, stood second. This grand old mare of eighteen years has won scores of ribbons in some of the best show rings and as she appeared last night she was in splendid fettle and in spite of the fact that she went to second place. With a stately movement she moved around the ring in a manner more like a three year old, but she did not have the same fine action as her more successful competitor.

Lady Horace and Nugget, shown by Cormack Bros., two fine specimens were third and fourth, respectively. They are both classy individuals, that in their own lass made a wonderful showing.

Saddle Classes

There were a number of very good saddle classes including hunters and the entries in these for the most part were exceptionally good, being much above the average. Some of the individuals showed very good quality, and as a whole were a credit to their owners.

The Edmonton Saddle club staged a bending race which was a very good feature. There were several soirees, but they were gracefully eliminated until H. G. Munro and Mrs. Bede May held the field alone. Mr. Munro in the last lap came in first, handling his horse in splendid style. Mrs. May also gave a splendid exhibition of horsemanship, in her attempts for first place.

Musical Pews

The musical pews also brought out a large number of good horses, and in the scramble they were eventually all eliminated but A. Malcolm, who was declared winner. In the last lap his opponent took two tumbles in less than one minute but was uninjured.

But there was one little pony among the thirty odd that was a real winner. This little animal that started in and out among the big horses much like a jack rabbit, held its own until the majority had been eliminated, and even then the audience was sorry to see it go.

The big draught teams were somewhat of a treat. Most of the heavy horses were judged during the afternoon, but there were some brought out at night. W. J. Prowse, of Cluny, with a splendid team of Clydes, took first place for the best pair owned by a farmer. Joseph Haggerty, of Olds, who also had a very good team, came second, while G. H. Cresswell of Edmonton, with the famous Peppy and her mate, Lady, stood third place. The Massie Bros., of Midnapore, came in fourth.

In a very strong class of heavy draught horses, J. Prouse also cleared the boards in the afternoon for the best pair of draught horses in the show, winning the Hudson Bay Challenge cup, which was presented by Deputy Minister H. A. Craig, to the winner.

J. Haggerty of Olds, also took second place in this event, while Geo. Cresswell of Edmonton was last year's winner also went third.

Massie Bros. of Midnapore, took first and second place in the under 1,550 and not less than 1,400 class, with a splendid pair of colts. Another exhibitor also captured the special for the best group of five draught horses, the get of one purebred sire. The showing of the draught horses as a whole was exceptionally good, some of the animals being of a very high standard. Some of the classes included several animals that showed much uniformity, and the judging of the awards was a very difficult matter.

The results follow:

Draught Horses

406—Mares (or geldings, purebred or grade), to weigh 1,550 pounds or over: 1, Bruce, Prowse Estate, agent W. J. Prowse, Cluny; 2, Lade, Jos. Hagerty, Olds; 3, Lad, J. Prowse, Ecrie; 4, Flossie, Massie Bros., Midnapore; 5, Cherry Blossom, G. H. Cresswell, Edmonton.

407—Mares (or geldings, purebred or grade), to weigh under 1,550 pounds but not less than 1,400 pounds: 1, Nig, Massie Bros.; 2, Darkie, Massie Bros.; 3, Cruickshank and Milne, Calgary, exhibiting a higher basis of rates in the United States the same distance, including a considerable larger volume of traffic than ever before, with the possible exception of a certain period when the movement of tonnage was stimulated by war conditions. Unfortunately this cannot be said for our Canadian Companies as both of these ways have at present a considerable portion of their plant out of service owing to lack of tonnage.

It is sometimes said that a reduction in freight rates will stimulate business. This is true, however, only to a temporary period. You cannot continue or exist entirely on that principle. Economic principle. Goods cannot pay transportation a charge in excess of that which will permit the sale thereof when transported from one part to another and railway companies cannot continue in operation and perform service at less than actual cost, and they should have in addition a reasonable return on their investment in order to maintain their credit.

"The railway must move traffic in order to secure revenue and there is a point below which freight train service must not be allowed to fall. First class service costs money, and this must be maintained in order to provide for the shipping public of Canada.

"These thoughts would be borne in mind when the times comes for a full discussion of the Crow's Nest rates and its bearing on the present freight-rate structure of Western Canada."

Mr. Dalrymple spoke in optimistic terms of conditions as he had found them in Western Canada during his tour of inspection. He was pleased with the traffic for Western Canada and the Pacific Coast during this year.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 16.—"The matter of degree of railroad service is just as important if not even more so, to the shipping community and to the country at large as the matter of freight rates. ANOTHER FOREIGN MARKET OPENED.

Spain is to allow Canadian wheat to enter its borders hereafter, and will also admit Canadian productions of all kinds at preferred rates, under the new reciprocal agreemnt signed at Madrid. In return, intermediate tariff rates are to apply to Spanish goods brought into Canada by direct route.

Just what the arrangement will amount to in terms of trade expansion will, of course, only be apparent in the future. The countries are sufficiently dissimilar in climate and production to warrant hope of a considerable exchange being possible. If there is little chance to develop trade between the countries there was little sense in maintaining prohibitory tariffs to prevent trade. If there is such chance either Canadian producers or Canadian consumers will profit by the lowering of the barriers. Whether the results are large or small, the principle involved is the correct one, that of securing entry to every possible foreign market for our surplus products.

BRANDON OPERA COMPANY.

The visit to the city this week of the Brandon Opera Company is providing a genuine musical treat for patrons of the New Empire theatre. This organization is producing the best in light opera.

There may be some who affect a false sense of superiority in regard to light opera. These so-called wise ones claim it is uncultured, and unmusical. Those who argue in this way only display their ignorance. There are several musicians of most outstanding ability who have devoted their efforts to the composition of light opera. The Vienna of the last century boasted of its Johann Strauss, Franz von Suppe, Richard Genee and Karl Milloecker. France had Charles Lecocq, Edmund Audran, Robert Planquette and Jacques Offenbach. Great Britain produced Sullivan, Edward German and Lionel Monckton. The United States has her Victor Herbert and Reginald de Koven, while Vienna today, once again the fount whence flows the brightest operettas, has Franz Lehar leading a brilliant band of composers, which includes Leo Fall and Oscar Strauss. Truly this is an imposing array of brilliance. These composers and a few,—all too few—others have composed and are composing music which is destined to survive by many years many so-called "classical" compositions which have not one small fraction of the attraction possessed by the works of these masters.

The Brandon Opera Company has chosen for presentation works from some of these great composers and it is indeed a rare musical treat to have such an excellent organization as this, presenting a selection of the most treasured of all light operas.

ONE YEAR WITH ANOTHER.

Failures in Canada last year totalled 2,474, with liabilities amounting to $64,000,000. In 1921 the failures were 2,451, with liabilities of $73,000,000. Practically as many business concerns went to the wall in 1921 as in 1924, and their gross losses totalled $9,000,000 more.

The year 1921 marked the end of the greatest boom period Canada ever saw. Last year was one of a slowing down of business in every part of the world, notably in the United States, whose economic tendencies exert a powerful influence upon Canadian conditions. World trade conditions considered, Canadian business suffered disaster last year in far less degree than in 1921.

Hon. Arthur Meighen has been compiling statistics to show that the advent of the King Government brought an epidemic of business casualties to Canada. Mr. Meighen was Premier of Canada in 1921, and helped shape the tariff and trade policies of the country during the boom years which preceded it. The result of his statesmanship was a record of failures far more discreditable, world conditions taken into account, than that of 1924.

If in a year of world prosperity Mr. Meighen could not prevent 2,451 firms going broke with a total liability of $73,000,000, it is not clear where he gets title to blame the King Government because as many firms went broke with a total liability $9,000,000 less in a year when world business tended toward stagnation.

PROLIXITY OUT OF PROPORTION.

The Minister of Finance brought down his budget at Ottawa on March 24th. The debate is still dragging along and promises to last another week. The discussion has long since ceased to be either publicly important or widely interesting. About all that was essential was said or sayable during the first week of talk. The balance of the month is being consumed in a succession of speeches designed to show that the Government has or hasn't ruined the country by modifying the amount of the tariff collected in certain kinds of imported goods. The Opposition, being the aggressors, are primarily responsible for the waste of time and money. The prolongation is the less excusable because all that has been said and is likely to be said had previously been said or will likely be said again in the course of other debates.

There was a suggestion a week or so ago that Parliament might take steps to choke off long-winded speakers. There is a natural disinclination to resort to closure or any means for suppressing the right of free and unlimited speech in the national Parliament. But it is of more importance that the business of the country be efficiently attended to than that every one of the 245 himself elected to Parliament should be permitted to spout without stint at the expense of the taxpayers. If some means are not adopted for setting a limit to the reiteration of worn out arguments Parliament may have to sit all summer or the important business of the session have to be railroaded through with less study than it deserves.

STOCK GROWERS IN THE MAKING.

As in former years, a feature of the spring stock show upon which the management have placed emphasis, and in which their efforts have met with a splendid response, has been the children's calf-feeding competition. Sixty-two calves stood in line on Wednesday, and the judges had plenty of trouble deciding to which of them the honors should go.

The importance of this annual contest is not, of course, in the production of well-groomed calves, but in the encouragement that is given to farm boys and girls to take a personal interest in cattle, and in live stock generally. Beside each calf stood a boy or girl who had fed it, tended it, prepared it for the show, and exhibited it as proof of his or her interest and skill in that branch of farming.

It is by no means probable that the sixty-two exhibitors represented the total number of boys and girls who spent their leisure time during the winter fitting calves for the competition. In any contest only the animals which are supposed to have a chance of winning finally get into the ring. It is to be supposed that a good many other children in this and the neighboring provinces also fed calves for the show, but neglected them the time came that their wards had not responded to the treatment in a way to justify the expense and trouble of bringing them to the city. The sixty-two exhibitors present prove that the young folks on the farms are being influenced in favor of stock-raising, but they do not show how many have been given an impulse in that direction or encouraged to follow their bent.

A country does not get into the front rank of stock producing regions by chance, nor solely in virtue of favoring natural conditions. Deliberate, intelligent and preserving effort on the part of the farmers alone can make even a good potential stock country an actual producer of high-class stock in distinctive quality. Building up a great stock producing industry requires time, and work, and knowledge, and—above all else—personal interest on the part of the farming community. No man who does not like cattle should have anything to do with that branch of farming, for he will get neither pleasure nor profit out of it.

The boys and girls who led their pets into the ring on Wednesday are interested in stock. Else they would not have spent their mornings and evenings in the cold weather carrying feed to the calves and leading them to water and cleaning out the stables. These will be the farm men and women of tomorrow, and the intelligent concern they are developing in that branch of farming will make them leaders in their communities, perhaps win national and international fame for some of them. The Alberta exhibitors will suffer no loss of enthusiasm because the Prince of Wales trophy was captured by a Manitoba boy. On the contrary, they and others will plan to bring that cup back to Alberta a year from now.

The greatest of living British artists has laid down the brush. For nearly half a century the name of Sargent has been known to lovers of good pictures the world over. He was fortunate in that while living he attained the fame which came to many of the great masters long after they had passed on. Fortunate also in that when his work was done he slipped away without suffering.

The boys' fair that is being held at the Y. M. C. A. is an enterprise that deserves encouragement. The exhibits are the handiwork of school boys, and range from the simple to the daintily varied impulses of youth. The uniform excellence of the work shows that where a boy's heart is he can show both skill and patient industry. The proceeds go to the carrying on of boys' work in the city. Both for itself and because of the object the fair is worthy of support.

A Georgia judge has decided that a husband is justified at times in spanking his wife. That being the case, hubby, of course, will have to be held responsible if wife gets into a fight with the neighbors or otherwise transgresses the laws and conventions which hedge the individual in the interests of social peace and order. The Georgian males may be sorry if they take on that responsibility in return for the privilege of administering discipline to their refractory spouses.

CRITICIZE METHOD OF ENFORCING STATUTES

HALIFAX, N.S., April 15.—Illicit liquor traffic and the enforcement of the Nova Scotia liquor laws were again the subject of a general discussion in the legislature today when the opposition criticized the government's method of enforcing the statutes, questioned its sincerity on the question of prohibition, inquired into the relation between the government and a local liquor export company and urged the abolition of all bonded liquor warehouses in the province.

Norman Way, Labor, Cape Breton, asked if the government could effect the abolition of bonded liquor warehouses by the action of the federal government to do away with them. He suggested that this was a legal question to be studied before the government could give an answer.

A. M. Drysdale, Hants, asked if the bonded warehouses were taxed and if in anything to the provincial revenue.

The reply Attorney-General O'Hearn.

"Then why don't they?" Drysdale exclaimed. "We're taxing those who have been and taxed when we do buy the liquor dealers don't pay a cent."

"Do you want to put a tax on bootleggers?" asked Mr. O'Hearn.

DR. MANION DEPLORES UNSKILLED SURGERY

OTTAWA, April 15.—The surgical knife in the hands of a practitioner without sufficient surgical experience was deplored by Captain the Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, M.P., Minister of Railways, in an address to the Association of Officers of the Medical Services of Canada, at the conferring president's luncheon here today. There should be a greater division between purely medical practice and surgery, Mr. Manion declared.

He declared that nowadays a young man can graduate with the letters M.D. after his name and, without proper post-graduate experience, set his hand to the most difficult and dangerous operation. "This is nothing short of criminal," said the speaker. "I think that no young practitioner should be allowed to practice surgery unless he has had a serious character unless he has had adequate surgical experience—some years in a big hospital, or other practical experience."

Dr. Manion declared he had been present, powerless to protest, when incompetent surgeons had performed operations.

Relic of Quebec's Fall to Return to Canada

According to press dispatches from London, Lord Willingdon, 1st Viscount Ratlon, who was scheduled to sail from Liverpool on April 9th by Canadian Pacific steamship "Montrose" on special emissary from the Hastings Corporation to the Quebec City council, has postponed his visit for some time owing to the illness of Viscountess Willingdon.

His Lordship's official mission, which will be carried out when the Viscountess recovers, will be to return to the City of Quebec the shield which was taken from its place when it was captured by General Wolfe in 1759 and which was presented to the Hasting's Corporation by General Murray who was present on that memorable occasion.

Since that time the shield has hung over the door of the Council Chamber in the Town Hall at Hastings and Quebec has endeavoured to obtain its return, for years in vain, but at last Hastings has relented.

Viscount Willington will be accompanied by his wife who before her marriage was the Hon. Marie Adelaide, daughter of 1st Baron Brassey, together with his two sons the Hon. Hugo Brassey Freeman-Thomas and his wife.

SAYS TOURISTS WILL FLOCK TOTHE COAST IN RECORD NUMBERS

WINNIPEG, April 15.—The biggest tourist year that the Pacific coast has ever known is promised for 1925, according to J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president of the Canadian National railways, who returned today from a tour which took him to the Pacific coast offices of the company. Canadian National railway bookings are already treble those of any previous year and there will be many special parties in both directions. The holding of a number of conventions on the Pacific coast, chief among which are the Shriners, Knights Templars and Elks' organizations, ensures a large traffic to that part of Canada and in a number of cases special trains are being operated to carry convention delegates over the Canadian National railways to Winnipeg and eastern points. In most cases stop-overs at Winnipeg are being arranged.

The provision of new facilities at Jasper Park Lodge, such as the golf course, nine holes of which will be ready for play, and the swimming pool, is attracting even more attention this year to Jasper National park, which Mr. Dalrymple anticipates will have by far the greatest season in its history. The Jasper Park course, he declared, was acknowledged by golf experts to be one of the best on the North American continent.

A new steamship service to Alaska being opened up by the Canadian National on the coast, the first sailing of which will be on June 22, has attracted many bookings also.

CORRESPONDENCE IS TABLED IN THE HOUSE

OTTAWA, April 15.—Correspondence with provincial governments, growers' associations and private growers was tabled in the house today in connection with the Duncan investigation into an alleged fruit marketing combine in Canada. The correspondence comprises all the documents which the department of labor feels justified in revealing at this time, Hon. James Murdock explains.

A file shows that a special memo prepared by the registrar of the Combines Investigation act has been sent to all the western provincial governments for their guidance as to the extent to which they may proceed against members of the alleged combine.

Only formal acknowledgments have been received from the provinces, except that British Columbia, through Hon. A. M. Manson, indicates that it will leave the matter for investigation in the hands of officers of his department.

There are a number of letters from growers applauding the Duncan report and asking for proceedings against the Nash Mutual interests. Private growers in Hillsboro, N.B.; Hemingford, Neb., Wyndel, B.C.; Victoria, Vancouver and Vernon, and the United Farmers' Co-operative Union of British Columbia and the Chilliwack Board of Trade are included in the list.

DEAFNESS IS CAUSE OF APPEAL TO OTTAWA

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 15.—Deafness of one of the jurymen who convicted Dr. F. W. Beak of manslaughter for which he was tried following the death of two men who were run down last May by a car he was driving, will result in the case being taken before the supreme court of Canada, it was announced today at the attorney-general's office.

The provincial court of appeal had ordered a new trial on the grounds that one of the members of the jury had been unable to hear any of the testimony at the first trial and it was against this decision that the provincial authorities appealed.

It was stated that if this ruling were allowed to stand there would be few criminal trials that could not be negatived after a verdict was given by lawyers who would find something substantial about the facilities of some juror.

LAND SHAPING UP WELL FOR SEEDING

The same condition applies generally to Saskatchewan where seeding has advanced favorably in the south and is getting under way at many other points.

In Alberta, good progress is reported from Nightingale, Duchess, Nobleford, Kirksidy and Leigh River.

Old Country Soccer Season Enters on Final Lap

ENGLISH FOOTBALL SEASON IS NOW DRAWING TO A CLOSE

At Least Three Teams in First Division Have Only One More League Game Left After Tomorrow—Sheffield United Will Contest Final of English Cup.

LONDON, April 16 (Canadian Press Cable)—For a number of clubs in the first division of the English Association, Saturday's games will mark the second last to be played for the current season. At least three teams have only one more league game after that, the early closing combinations being Newcastle United, West Ham and Sheffield United. The latter, however, are finalists in the English cup, which is slated for a week from Saturday.

Title in Doubt

The league title is likely to be in doubt right up to the last sound of the whistle, although at the moment Huddersfield Town are in the best position, and should they dispose of Cardiff City the day after tomorrow they will have the situation well in hand. This game, however, offers quite a problem for the leaders, for the City, also cup finalists, have been travelling in better form recently.

West Bromwich are not up against any insurmountable proposition on Saturday, for Notts Forest, whom they play, are now earmarked for relegation.

West Bromwich still have a great hope for the league title. Everything depends on what can be done by the other clubs who have still to meet Huddersfield, and on what West Bromwich can do against their own opposition. The battle lies between these two.

Sheffield United have rather disappointed their fans in the league games recently, and it is with some apprehension that their game with Notts County is being awaited on Saturday.

Expect Excitement

An interesting game is expected on the Tyneside when Newcastle United entertain Bolton Wanderers.

Other first division games:

Burnley at Arsenal; Preston at Aston Villa; Sunderland at Blackburn; Birmingham at Derby; Tottenham at Liverpool; Leeds at Manchester; Everton at West Ham.

In the second division, the fans here are "intrigued" with the game that is scheduled for Scotch Shields when the locals meet Leicester City. This makes it four times straight in a row that South Shields have been up against the leaders of the division.

Three teams are in the battle for promotion to the first division. These are Leicester City, Derby County and Manchester United.

Manchester United are faced by Bradford City on Saturday and by all the "dope" they should get two points.

The other second division fixtures are:

Southampton at Barnsley; Coventry City at Blackpool; Clapton Orient at Fulham; Oldham Athletic at Chelsea at Middlesborough; Stockport at Portvale; The Wednesday at Portsmouth and the Palace at Wolverhampton.

Negotiate to Have Sir Aran Perform His Famous Jump Over Car

Negotiations are at present being carried on between the Edmonton Exhibition board and Miss Dorothy Woods for the staging of the spectacular event of jumping her horse, Sir Aran, over an automobile during Saturday evening's performance at the Arena. This event will be staged in addition to the championship jumps at the high jump matches between Bay Eagle, Madamoiselle and Barra Lad.

Josie Welsh taking a pair of horses over a jump five feet six inches high, while standing on their backs. He is the only rider on the continent who performs this feat. This will be one of the tit-bits at this evening's performance at the Spring Show at the Arena.

BASEBALL

WILL ENDEAVOR TO BETTER MARK

Tiny Welsh to Put Calgary Lass Over the High Jumps Tonight.

Thrills galore will be provided for the patrons of the Spring Show tonight at the Arena when Tiny Welsh will endeavor to break the record of 5 feet 6 inches which he hung up at last night's performance when he puts the diminutive Calgary Lass over the poles without a mistake.

The eight year old wonder horseman is confident that he can get the little mare over seven inches higher when he faces her at the jumps this evening.

There is no more popular event than Tiny Welsh's riding of Calgary Lass and there is sure to be a large crowd on hand to see this event. Last night when he got her safely over at 5 feet 6 inches the rafters fairly raised the roof with their cheering.

The sensation seeker will have a real opportunity this evening of satisfying his thirst when Welsh puts his Roman team over five feet six inches standing on their backs. This stunt is one of the most spectacular of the whole bag of tricks that the Welsh riders perform, and is one that will bring the spectators to their feet.

Besides the attempt on record by Tiny Welsh and Calgary Lass, and the Roman jumping act, a display of jumping by the Welsh string of horses will be staged.

A real tit bit will be the open jumping contest for which many famous jumpers have been entered, and the contest will be a real thriller before the Red ribbon is awarded.

Members of the Edmonton Saddle Club will stage several amusing and interesting stunts during the evening.

STRAYING AIRCRAFT FOUND; RETURNING

sending at Scesterberg and ordered torpedo boat destroyers to patrol ad watch for the drifting airship.

About 9 o'clock this evening the air ministry, which never had lost confidence, received a message from the R-33 saying she was near Tmuiden and was making an attempt to return to Pulham. Then followed a succession of favorable reports to the ministry, showing the aircraft had successfully begun the homeward journey.

Message Received

PULHAM, England, April 17.—At 2:46 this (Friday) morning the following wireless message was received from the R-33:

"Have fuel for 15 hours. Please give forecast for dawn. Am just making headway 12 miles southsouthwest of Vmuiden (Holland).

"Godetia (British sloop) standing by. If outlook does not improve at dawn, propose being towed."

The commanding officer here replied advising the commander of the airship to try to avoid towing. He gave the forecast as indicating that the wind slowly was dropping over the whole of the North Sea and remaining west-southwest.

The report from the airship dispelled the expectation that it might reach Pulham at dawn, but it did not destroy hope for its eventual safe arrival.

BURGET DEBATE SEES REVIVAL BIG BATTLE

to the fruit combine in western Canada. Stirling recommended that the report of the commissioners to the members of the house. He spoke of the report as containing some very light reading and referred to "the stuff which these brigands put among themselves."

The minister of labor had recently gone fishing and in the report of the fruit combine he had alluded to a big fish which he was now wriggling on the bank. The fish had been landed until human consumption and the minister of labor was now waiting for some one to come along and scoop it. Meanwhile the fruit growers were extremely anxious lest the fish flop back into the stream again.

Mr. Stirling believed that the government had power to proceed against the combine and suggested to the minister of labor that he get the opinion on the matter of lawyers who were members of the government.

Continues Speech

In continuing his speech after the dinner recess this evening, Mr. Stirling urged that steps be taken to destroy the fruit combine in western Canada. It was of no advantage to the producer or the consumer for him to receive 40 cents per box for apples and have them sold in the prairie province at $3.00 a box.

Discrimination under the sales tax should be removed. Printing establishments doing business under $10,000 a year were exempt from the sales tax, while firms doing business of $10,000 or over had to pay. A year ago an amendment had been put through which exempted $10,000 limitation in practically all industries except printing. Mr. Stirling suggested if the government could not point out the discrimination in regard to printing establishments the least it could do would be to give large printing businesses $10,000 exemption on their tax returns. Reduction in tax was badly needed in Canada, but this would be only possible through economy. The government, unfortunately, had not carried out any real economies.

Mr. Stirling drew the attention of the house to a statement which he said occurred in the course of the by-election in Yale, B. C., about a year ago. A western Liberal organizer had visited Penticton, called on members of the board of trade there, and promised that if Penticton would give a majority to Mr. Stirling's Liberal opponent, a post office would be constructed at that place. The returns from Penticton had given a Conservative majority, and no post office was erected. Such "messy dirtiness" of this nature sullied the fair name of Canada.

Debate Carries On

G. W. Kyle, Liberal, Cape Breton South and Richmond, said that a former speaker had criticized the Liberals because they had opposed a tariff board when it had been proposed by the Conservatives in 1912. That was because a government which was interested in maintaining a high tariff could not be entrusted to the appointment of such a board.

Dr. Manion had claimed there was lack of unity among the Liberals at the present time, Mr. Kyle prophesied that as the Conservative group in the house decreased in numbers, it would increase in unanimity. If the Conservatives were in power at the present time, and a tariff board were appointed there would be no chance of low tariff representation on the board. In the case of the present government, if all was true, as stated by Dr. Manion, that high tariff men and free traders were in the party, then it certainly represented more adequately public opinion.

W. H. McTaggart, Progressive, Manic Creek, declared he was "very much out of accord with the budget proposals of the government." The net result of the administration of the present government was that there was a higher tariff now than there was in 1921. If no more rapid advance toward a low tariff could be made, the prospect for the future was not bright.

"How much longer can the minister of finance afford to issue car tax free bonds as a mode of taxation?" asked Mr. McTaggart. He was doubtful if the government had the right to issue tax free bonds.

Mr. McTaggart forced that the minister of justice should introduce an amendment to the Bankruptcy Act which would place farmers on the same basis as business men in respect to bankruptcy.

Dr. M. McKay, Liberal, North Renfrew, adjourned the debate.

BIG STAKES FOR JUMPING EVENT SATURDAY NIGHT

Purses Aggregating $1,400 Will be Competed for by Welsh Bros. and G. Girvan

BARRA LAD CONCEDING BAY EAGLE 3 INCHES

Edmonton Horse is Lame in Right Front Foot, But is Full of Courage.

The winner of the $400 purse in the Girvan-Welsh jumping event at the arena is still to be decided. Last night George Girvan's Bay Eagle and Welsh Bros. Madamoiselle, the famous twenty-three-year-old mare from Calgary competed but both horses failed to negotiate the jumps at more than six feet two and a quarter inches and the match was declared a tie. Those two horses will meet again to decide the winner Saturday night.

Bay Eagle will also be matched against the famous Barra Lad Saturday for $1,000 stakes, the Calgary horse conceding three inches. There is much speculation as to the outcome of this event, and there is a feeling that side bets will be made on all sides before the match is finally staged. Both of the horses are favorites and have given some wonderful performances.

Big Stakes.

The total amount up for these two events is now $1,400.

Bay Eagle last night was quite lame in the right front foot, but was game right up to the last jump. He is a splendid specimen of horseflesh and under similar conditions not one horse in a thousand would have attempted to go over the hurdles. It is expected by careful treatment to have the leg in condition so that he can jump Saturday night. This horse first started to jump a year ago last January and has done some very good work.

But he is up against two good horses. Madamoiselle is one of the best jumping mares in competition in any part of the world, her best record up to date being at the six inches. At Edmonton she has made six feet nine inches. She is an unbeaten horse having been raised on J. F. Bevan's ranch, at Cochrane, and subsequently found her way into the hands of Commissioner Bryan after having served as a carriage horse in Calgary. Two years ago she won first in the handy hunter class at Brooklyn Mass., defeating the Dublin champion that year.

Pacific Champion.

Barra Lad was foaled at the Colony farm in New Westminster and at the present time holds the records than any living horse. He holds the Pacific championship for seven feet 4 inches, and in Alberta recently beat old Smokey's record of 6 feet 10 inches by two inches. He has never failed to top any mark set by his owners and has been jumped in the leading Cochrane from coast to coast and his owners issue a challenge to jump for six hundred dollars a side, one of the oldest established and largest game clubs in Canada, has promulgated a by-law to the effect that all time table horse or running of deer on the club preserves will dogs.

Babe Ruth Must Undergo Operation to Remove Abscesses

NEW YORK, April 16—Babe Ruth will undergo an operation here tomorrow for relief from abscesses which have developed since his removal to the hospital upon the return of the New York Yankees from their southern training trip.

Championships in all three competitions each year be decided for the province of British Columbia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and district, province of Ontario and province of Quebec. Trophies will be held by champions for one year and they will also receive gold medals.

With fourteen holes ready for use in the immediate future, the municipal club has reason to be optimistic in the success of the season's activities and climatic conditions being favorable it is anticipated that complete nine hole course will be available before the close of this season.

In the course of a few days the competitions committee will announce the dates for the first round of the primary event, the Abbott cup, donated by the Hon. Vice-President, Mr. Justice Abbott. This competition will be followed by a new and special competition arranged for golfers with a handicap of eighteen and over. The handsome trophy which was recently donated for the event, is sure to attract a large entry, and as a matter of fact, it is expected that this secondary event will rival the Abbott cup competition, which is generally conceded to have the largest entry list in Northern Alberta.

The big drive for members will start next Saturday under the supervision of Dr. H. M. Landing and secretary-treasurer, J. C. Wilson.

MARKETS

BEARS CHASE PRICES DOWN

Exporters Not Buying and Quotations Declined Under Sluggish Local Demand.

WINNIPEG, April 16—With the export interests side-tracking the Winnipeg market and demand purely local, wheat prices today declined 8 5-8 cents in a session completely dominated by "bear" traders. Nervousness developed right at the opening of the market, prices suffering a loss of about 3 cents. Further weakness followed heavy liquidation which failed to meet supporting demand. May delivery closed at $1.48 1-2, which was around the low for the day. July slumped 7 3-4 cents at $1.46 while October dropped four cents at $1.28 1-4.

Trade volume was not large. The Liverpool cables were 5 3-4 to 6 pence down, reflecting the decline on this side yesterday.

Seaboard advices indicated that practically no export business had been worked overnight and that bids were very much out of line. Another bearish factor was continued in reports from Europe stating that crop conditions are improving.

The coarse grain markets all reflected weakness, rye declining 6 1-4 cents and flax 5 1-2, while barley and oats were fractionally lower.

Interest was lacking in cash wheat, with spreads unchanged to quarter lower. Oats were more active and met a fair inquiry. The other cash grain markets were neglected.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, April 16—Bread-stuffs went wildly downward in price today, almost a drug on the market. Selling out to stop losses on the May delivery of wheat here disclosed a nearly complete absence of demand, strikingly in contrast with widespread belief a few months ago that a world shortage this season was impending. As a result, wheat values fell as much as 8 cents a bushel today and rye 10 cents. The wheat market closed semi-demoralized and, as compared with yesterday's finish, 2 1-4 to 7 1-4 cents down, May 144 3-4 to 145 and July 137 3-4 to 138; corn 3 1-8 to 4 1-4 cents off, oats showing 3-4 to 1 1-4 cents decline and provisions at setbacks varying from 10 to 12 cents to 25 cents.

Minneapolis Grain

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 16—Flour 5 to 30 cents lower at $8.60 to $8.85 a barrel.

NEW PEAK IN MOTOR ISSUES

Maxwell, Nash and Willys-Overland Stocks Attain High Mark.

NEW YORK, April 16—Stock prices turned reactionary today on selling inspired largely by the easier tendency of the commodity markets although independent strength was shown by the Maxwell, Willys-Overland and Nash motor issues, all of which attained new peak prices for the year.

Standard Industrials worked upward during the early part of the session but turned heavy towards the close when United States Cast Iron Pipe broke nearly 14 points to 155, or ninety-five points below the year's high on the movement at 177 7-8 and then dropped back to 116 3-8, a net loss of more than one point on the day. American Can closed fractionally lower at 172 5-8 after having sold as high as 174. Baldwin sagged from 114 3-4 to 113 1-8, off 1 1-4.

Most of the coppers lost ground.

Motors were under heavy accumulation throughout the day. Maxwell "A" was lifted to a new high record at 106 1-4 and then eased to 105, up 1 7-8, while the "B" soared six points to a new peak at 79 5-8 and then slipped back to 77 7-8.

Oils were sold freely on reports that the daily average of crude oil output increased over 62,000 barrels in the week ended April 11.

Total sales 1,422,000 shares.

LAD APRIL

April is no lady;
April is a boy,
Wearing torn green trousers
Made of corduroy!

Whistling through the woodland
Cheerily he goes,
Nothing but the brown dust
Covering his toes.

Lad, he cuts a slingshot
Out of tough green wood,
Shoots at all the squirrels
In the neighborhood.

Clambers in the treetops,
Swings across the air,
Never hurts a robin,
Or a bluebird there.

April goes a-fishing
With a small green rod.
No one else goes with him—
Only, maybe, God.

—KATHRYNE WORTH.

Thousands of daintily yellow primroses are peeping shyly out of their green baskets on in room 10 of the Dominion Building, and tomorrow will be taken out into the streets to be sold because it is Junior Red Cross Tag Day, and the children who have diligently worked in making these flowers will try just as diligently to sell them. Their slogan is "The children for the children, the healthy, happy well provided for; one for the crippled, unhappy and less fortunate whose lives may become a burden on the public unless the opportunity and privilege to aid is realized now."

Necessary treatment has been brought to a great many little sufferers during the past year by efforts of the Junior Red Cross members who held concerts, sales of candy and cooking, and through other sources earned money, but there is still throughout the northern part of the province and in the Edmonton district some two hundred children in need of hospital treatment whose parents, through no fault of their own, are unable to obtain it for them.

Volunteers to sell tags are wanted, especially for the noon hour tomorrow, and anyone who can help may get in touch with the secretary today by telephoning 5478. The school children may get their supplies from the Red Cross Rooms today, and the adults tomorrow morning, and the tag day offices, one door west of the National Maid Bakery on Jasper Avenue.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO THE LITTLE MARQUISE. CARE THE SECRET DRAWER.

I expect it is by some real plan of Fate that I received the three letters which I am going to show you, am putting in the secret drawer today.

How many times letters tell much more than the people who write them intend to tell.

In all these letters I am sure each one of the writers has written between the lines something each person in the world knows in her mind, but which they had no idea they had told.

Here is the letter I have just received from Jimmers telling me about her coming baby. But thought she was telling me that she was afraid of the pains when and if the while she was agonising over the fact that she is afraid she will lose her one beauty—her beautiful figure—she may lose also her husband's love.

She also unconsciously tells me that she is afraid of the young and less jealous of the lovely girls with whom Dick comes in contact every day.

Then she really—although she does not know it—makes me an apology to Paula Perier for being afraid that Dick's new wife herself first came to Hollywood.

She has now come in some way to realize the fact that for a time at least Paula is done with men.

The most illuminating thing about her letter to me, however, is that long conversation she had with Paula in which she asked me to the conclusion that "the wife is not only the housekeeper and the housekeeper, but also the lovekeeper of the family."

This is a newwithought and, taken in connection with that letter which Jack wrote to Syd, it is a treat to sight to me.

Jack wrote to Syd, "It is perfectly astonishing how implacably unforgiving a good woman can be."

Jack was in a bitter and vile attitude, little Marquise. I forgave him when she told of 100,000 6th children sliving and dying in industry, and the need of Christin influence being made felt; Mrs. Watt also spoke of the address on the Washington conference by the Rev. A. C. Farrell, and Mrs. Harvey's closing words urging toleration and understanding in the present trying time of the church. She also alluded to the society's allocation of $12,647. Having reached the sum of $12,897.

The thank-offering amounted to $84.00, and life membership of 226 was also handed in.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT
By DAVID CORY

This is the first of a new set of six David Cory coloring pictures, three cut and three to color. The Sunny Meadow with a song.

Sunny day now how to whistle.

So did Little Jack Rabbit, or, rather, with a whistle. For the bunny boy was in a happy mood, as indeedy I should say yes three times over.

Along the Bubbling Brook the Pussy-willows were smiling in their spring garments of pearl grey and the little minnows were darting here and there in the shallow spots. Billy Breeze was blowing the yellow dust from the open stamens of the Alders as they swayed to and fro to his musical whistle.

"Oh, yes, spring is here to stay," whispered the happy little rabbit to himself, looking up at the maple trees decked with rosettes of red and yellow, and at the birch trees, blushing with tiny red buds. Right at his feet in the midst of a cluster of green leaves the bunny boy thought he saw a violet.

"Every bud will soon be open," laughed the little rabbit. "And Granddaddy Bullfrog will come up from the mud at the bottom of the Old Duck Pond," and as if almost expecting to see the dear old gentleman frog on his log, the little bunny looked across the pond to the old blueberry bushes and wild smilax anyone just what they think or feel from the cradle to the grave they are always "seeming" somebody or something they are not, and in all ways he and usually is himself.

AUTHOR CONDEMNS LAW

OTTAWA, April 16.—"Legalized piracy," "ignominious" and "chivalry" were the terms used by Howard A. Kennedy, of the Montreal branch of the Canadian Authors' Association, in voicing his opinion of the present compulsory licensing clauses to the special copyright committee of the house of commons here, this morning. Mr. Kennedy appeared for the repeal of the existing right of printers and publishers to print the works of a Canadian author, privately unpublished in this country.

CHINA USED FOR CENTURIES

As far back as the eighteenth century the fad of collecting china was in vogue. And then, the prices were hardly less high than those demanded in our present generation. For the art of making porcelain in exquisite pieces was limited to just a few "royal factories" and the people of wealth and position were the only ones able to afford the fine examples of china.

Today these patterns which were possible to the royal alone are within the reach of the most modest purse, for reproductions of rarely beautiful patterns are used in the best china factories in direct lieu of the hand painted individual pieces of all prices.

The Arcadia china, which is made in Limoges, France, today presents patterns of real beauty in their dinner services. The Arcadia pattern, which is designed in the pilgrim shape, possesses the colorful birds in the center, with a mingling of the floral flower for a lovely border and offers a delightful combination of colors for all occasions and may be obtained for a fairly reasonable sum. Equally lovely is the bone china made in England by the Royal Doulton firm which features patterns famous throughout the history of china.

Minton china, which features the beautifully gold encrusted border, is another choice well worth the attention of the discriminating buyer for while the eighteenth century Minton china has been known the world over.

Wedgwood china, which features bone china, also utilizes patterns famous throughout history.

Quimper pottery, which comes in such harmonious coloring and beautiful designs, is used successfully in salad, dessert and other sets.

Early in the seventeenth century the Chinese porcelains became familiar to the western world of wealth, and the factories of Europe, in an endeavor to reproduce this sort of china, followed closely the patterns and coloring of the Chinese porcelains, but later developed the floral designs so much favored in our American reproductions.

In Rouen, France, the porcelains of China and Japan were closely reproduced, and later, at Sevres, these patterns were also used in the most famous pieces. Later, when the Chinese and Japanese styles became stale, Western decorations succeeded them, and garlands and wreaths of flowers with exotic birds were made fashionable. Later figures of men, women and children were cunningly worked into the pictorial background of the plates.

One of the most beautiful patterns which occurs to the writer is that which uses a rose Pompadour named for Madame Pompadour, which uses the same color with a background of the lovely shade of blue known as Madame Pompadour.

The Meissen, or, more commonly known, Dresden china, which is noted for its delicacy of coloring and its fine design, also lends itself to lasting reproductions, as does the famous pieces of old Chelsea, Bow, Worcester and Bristol, England.

Norma Talmadge, who is so delightful in her newest First National film, "The Lady," has a charming collection of old pieces of china which she prizes greatly. This collection includes pieces famous in Japan, China, France and England.

FOOTLIGHTS and FILMS

PANTAGES BILL IS SUCCESSFUL

Harmonyland is Outstanding Act on All Round Good Program.

This week's bill at Pantages fully maintains the high standard that has been set at the popular Jasper Avenue playhouse for the past several months. A capacity house greeted the opening matinee yesterday afternoon and showered much applause on each succeeding act.

The outstanding act on the bill is "Harmonyland." Here is an act in a thousand. It is artistic, popular and at all times thoroughly enjoyable. The staging is beautiful, the gowns worn by the two ladies are strikingly impressive and the manner of presentation of the various numbers leaves little to be desired.

Erna Alma and Rae Parlow are a pair of talented vocalists. They wear a bewildering series of gowns that are entirely in keeping with the spirit of the act. They have euphonious voices that blend well and are fully equal to the music they sing. They open with the Barcarolle" from Tales of Hoffman," and then do a couple of more popular numbers. They conclude with a reprise of numbers from some of Victor Herbert's successful comic operas. This includes "Toyland," "Absinthe Frappe,""Kiss me Again," "A Kiss in the Dark," and the "Italian Street Song," from Naughty Marietta."

The Herberts ably assisted the two vocalists, both in accompanying them and in solo numbers. The violinist scored heavily with two well chosen solos.

Strobel and Mertens in 'their unusual air sensation" provided considerable high-class work and a great deal of honest entertainment. They are above the average in their own particular line of endeavor. The couple were accorded a cordial reception.

Bright Act.

Purcell and Vincie in "Kiss a Miss" have a bright, snappy offering of a lightsome nature that cannot fail to please. Mr. Purcell is a tip-top comedian and a most accomplished dancer. He knows how to put his work over to get the best effect and he certainly scored a hit. Vincie makes an admirable assistant, being plentifully supplied with pep.

Tom Kelly is one of the most enjoyable attractions that has come this way for a long time. He has an agreeable singing voice which he uses to good effect and also has a way all his own of telling a story. He put his humor over to the complete satisfaction of all and had to respond to three encores. He sure made a hit.

Foley and Leture have a classy act. It is breezy and brim full of pithy sayings, splendid singing and vivacious dancing. Both set and maintain a fast pace throughout. The act is attractive in every way and the best testimony to its undeniable merit was the storms of applause that greeted it at its conclusion.

Gordon and Germaine in "The Duke and the Baron" have one of the best comedy acts seen here in many moons. Disguised as tramps they put over much humor and then indulge in some tumbling stunts. The whole thing is done with ease and assurance and with a sang froid that is decidedly good. This was a most enjoyable act and was all too short.

The first instalment of The Pace Makers served to re-introduce such favorites as Alberta Vaughn, Albert Cooke and Kit Guard.

Al Preston and his orchestra played a series of ear tickling tunes for the delectation of the audience.

SQUIBS' HONEYMOON ENDS RUN TODAY

The weather in France during the filming of "Squibs Honeymoon," which is being presented today for the last times, was of the very worst, and in one day an inch and a quarter of rain fell in one hour and a half. "The scene taken, says Betty Balfour, "was a little incident a la September Morn' which I played shivering in icy blasts of a fierce gale—and got a bad influenza cold as a reward. Near Montgomery we took scenes around a quaint house inhabited by a dear old lady with one tooth who must have been quite ninety years old. She insisted on kissing Mr. Pearson the director every morning before we started work. The people around were sorry when we had to part, and by way of wishing us God-speed sang "God Save the King," in French. "Squib's Honeymoon," the amusing tale of a young bride's honeymoon adventures in France will please the most hard-to-please person in Edmonton. Harold Lloyd will also be seen in the encore picture "Haunted Spooks" a scream from start to finish. "The Crimson Runner" another crook story, is booked for showing Saturday.

PRINCE AND THE PAUPER SHOWING AT MONARCH

One of the favorite roles of that distinguished actor, William Faversham, is Miles Hendon in Mark Twain's "The Prince and The Pauper," which he produced on the stage two seasons ago. Now the same play has been made into a motion picture and Tibi Lubin, a boy of seven, plays both prince and pauper, enacted on the stage by Ruth Findley. This picture is now showing at the Monarch theatre today and Saturday.

PARAMOUNT FEATURE PLAYING AT EMPRESS

The Paramount picture "Lord Chumley" an adaptation of the play of the same name which opened on Wednesday last at the Empress Theatre will have its last screenings today.

Viola Dana, Theodore Roberts and Raymond Griffith are featured in the cast of the production which includes among other big names, Cyril Chadwick, Anna May Wong and William Boyd.

There's rapid-fire action in "Lord Chumley," love interest and all the rest—and its clean as a whistle.

BOHEMIAN GIRL IS TRIUMPHANT

Brandon Opera Co. Reaches Great Artistic Heights in Production.

Michael William Balfe's immortal opera, "The Bohemian Girl," was presented last night at the New Empire Theatre by the Brandon Opera Company.

One could search the entire literature of opera and nowhere will he find a score which contains so many melodies that have found such high favor with the English speaking world at large as there are in "The Bohemian Girl." To name over the songs from this opera that have achieved undying popularity would be to go over the entire score, but a few of the better known ones are "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls," "The Heart Bowed Down," "Then You'll Remember Me." These three alone would be sufficient to ensure the success of the opera, but they are only three of the most brilliant of many bright gems of melody.

The Brandon Opera Company has not done better work than last night. The entire company threw itself individually and collectively heart and soul into the performance. It takes a mighty fine organization to change its program every night as this one has done and still maintain a high standard of efficiency. But this thing the Brandon Opera Company has done. The production went so smoothly that one would think the company was playing this opera and no other.

There was ample opportunity for all to display their vocal powers. The chorus, ever a mainstay of this organization, was at its best last night. The choral numbers were sung in a highly polished and most musicianly manner and reflected the highest possible credit on the singers.

Miss Pennington Stars.

What has been said of the chorus applies in equal measure to the principals. Theo Pennington as Arline, won the complete and unqualified approval of the audience. She had even greater scope to display her gorgeous voice than in "Robin Hood" and she availed herself of the opportunity to the fullest extent. She sang easily and seemed to thoroughly enjoy herself. To have heard Miss Pennington last night is one of the events of the year and one that will linger long in the memory of those who were present. She was the recipient of a beautiful boquet during the course of the performance.

Jessie Evans as the Gypsy Queen, sang excellently, while Marcia Betty Wolf as Arline at six years of age; and Margaret Jenkinson as Budah were fully equal to all demands made upon them.

Carl Bundschu as Count Arnheim sang splendidly. His intonation was perfect and the full round voice was admirably suited to the music that fell to his lot. He gave a highly polished performance and one of which he may well feel proud.

Harry Pfeil as Thaddeus would have been difficult to improve upon. He not only sang the part but looked it as well. His voice has not been heard to better advantage since he came here and in "Then You'll Remember Me" in particular he rose to great heights. His work bore the indelible stamp of artistry at all times.

George Ole Oleson as Florestein was fully competent to handle his assignments. Ed. Andrews as Devilshoof gave a splendid performance and got not a little humor out of his role. Art Beard was a fine Captain of the Guard.

Clarence West deserves much credit for again providing an enjoyable musical background.

LIQUOR STORES OPEN

REGINA, April 16.—Promptly at the scheduled time, Saskatchewan's liquor stores opened at 11 o'clock this morning. The two Regina stores presented a remarkable contrast when the opening hour arrived. One was simply swamped with business while the other was by comparison almost idle.

Police Court

W. Jameson, charged with the theft of $7, the property of Mr. Kay, was placed on probation for one year on his own bond of $200, when he appeared before Magistrate P. C. H. Primrose in the Police Court yesterday. He was also ordered to report to the Chief Constable once a month.

William Cameron was sentenced to three months imprisonment with hard labor in Fort Saskatchewan jail on a charge of indecency, and two men charged with having been intoxicated were each fined $10 and costs.

For speeding in a prohibited area, namely Jasper Avenue, James Samson was fined $2 and costs, Charles Munton, $15 and costs, and Gerald Burse costs of the court. Asa Morehouse was remanded on a similar charge until today. Charges of speeding were also laid against Alex McKwan, William Anton, and Nick Sturko, who were each fined $15 and costs.

A fine of $200 and costs, or six months imprisonment in default, was imposed on John Boychak by Magistrate George B. McLeod in the Provincial Court, on a charge of operating an illicit still. No evidence was offered on a charge of keeping liquor for sale, and this case was dismissed. Excise enforcement officer Fidler and Preventive officer Greville alleged that they found forty gallons of mash and three gallons of moonshine when they raided the accused's house at Beverley.

ONTARIO GOVT. NOT ACTING AS AGENT FOR ALBERTA COAL

TORONTO, April 16.—Outlining the arrangements made by the provincial government under which the public may participate in the shipments of Alberta coal which are to reach this province next month, Premier G. H. Ferguson today stated that owing to the lateness of the season only 25,000 tons would be shipped instead of 100,000 tons as at first arranged. However, he added that if conditions warranted an additonal shipment could likely be arranged.

The procedure which has been laid down for the purchase is that he shall notify the provincial fuel controller of the amount of coal which he wishes to secure and of the name of the dealer through whom he is securing it, forwarding at the same time, a blank guarantee to cover the freight charges. The order then will be transmitted to the Alberta trade commissioner, who if he considers that the coal to be shipped is suitable for Ontario use, will sanction the shipment under the experimental seven dollar transportation rate which is to prevail next month.

"The government feels," Premier Ferguson said, "that to retain the large expenditure paid by Ontario for fuel in Canada it would be well worth while to carry Alberta coal at actual cost. The investigations of our representatives have convinced them that the actual cost of carrying Alberta coal to Ontario does not exceed $7.00 per ton. It is represented to us that coal can be purchased in Alberta for $3.00 or $3.50 per ton. This would make western coal available to our people at substantially less than we pay for American anthracite."

"The Ontario government," the premier pointed out, "is not purchasing or selling Alberta coal. Neither has it undertaken nor does it propose to undertake, to enter into any arrangement with any firm or person for the shipping to Ontario of their particular coal."

NO FAVORITISM SHOWN IN COLLECTING TAXES

OTTAWA, April 16—"I am not trying to cover anything," declared R. W. Breadner, commissioner of taxation, when examined before the public accounts committee by W. C. Good, Progressive, Brant, this morning respecting the assessment and collection of business profit tax particularly in relation to the lapse of time between the financial computation made by the department was filed and when the assessment was made.

"I am sure that when the facts are known the administration will be sustained," he added, and declared, "it was impossible to figure out assessments as a matter of routine. As an example of the difficulties experienced in handling the act, the commissioner said that he believed that a financial statement of any corporation given to six auditors would not bring two agreements as to what the taxation should be.

"Did you delay the assessment of any company due to the precarious position of that company?" asked Mr. Good.

"Yes, and I would do it again."

Mr. Forke: "Then you were the sole arbiter in the destines of that company."

"Yes, and if any one says that I had any ulterior motive in any actions I want them searched to the bottom. I was not approached by any minister. There was no favoritism."

SECOND NIGHT IS BIG SUCCESS

"Music Night" at Boys' Fair at "Y" Attracts Large and Appreciative Crowd.

Saxophone solos, piano selections, violin renderings and singing were included in last night's entertainment at the annual Boys' Fair, which was opened to the public on Wednesday. Last night was "music" night when a large number vied with each other to win honors in the handling of different instruments, while tonight the senior section and orchestras will lock horns in attempts to wrest the prizes.

Another good crowd attended all day yesterday, and the boys report business as being very good. The hut was full to hear the musical selections, while others swarmed about the midway.
